We know this to be exactly as stated.

This result can be accomplished with any skin affection. Barrels of blood medicine can do nothing for a skin dischase. Nine out of ten manifestations in the skin are local—parasitic in nature, and absolutely curable by this new prescription. D. D. D. is a clean liquid prescription sopped or atomized over the affected spots twice daily. We know this to be exactly as stated. This result can be accomplished with worst form for about two years, in which time I tried several remedies and pet prescriptions, until I had spent about $100 and found no nermanent relief. Naturally I became skeptical and hesitated when a new remedy was offered me. "You will have to show me," as the Missourian says, when Mr. McDonel, of the Ploneer Drug Store, claimed he could cure me with D. D. D. I was shown photographs of cases before and after taking D. D. hogether with the story of a remarkable cure of a man working In the Valley Ax Works at Alexandria, which came under the personal observation of Mr. Jordan. I commenced using the medicine as per directions. After using the fifth bottle I was cured. I have never thad any return of the disease. Many come to me asking what D. D. Aid for me, and I always tell them if they want to be cured "Use D. D. as per directions."

Gaul's sublime musical conception, "The Cantata of Ruth," founded upon the beautiful story of Naomi and Ruth as recorded in the Scriptures, was rendered in magnificent style at the Second Presbylerian Church Wednesday night in the presence of one of the most cultured audiences that has ever assembled in a sacred editfice in Norfolk,
selected from the leading church choirs
in the city. It is safe to say that a more superb and classical musical treat
of a high order has zeldom seen presented before a Norfolk audience.

It being the first time tha spacious and beautiful auditorium being filled with the music loving people of this city and section.

This beautiful musical conception was rendered in full chrus, solos, duets and trios, the voices of the singers blending most harmoniously with the full-toned notes of the organ, violin and cornet, holding the audience spellbound from the beginning to the close of the cantata.

The singing of Ruth was preceded by a solo by Miss Pauline Pettus, of Ghent Methodist choir, one of the sweetest soprano soloists in the city, whose voice was in splendid trim. She sang Denza's "A May Morning," to the great delight of her hearers. Then followed a solo from the sweet notes of the violin by Mr. Pattee, which prepared the audience for the rich treat to follow.

Those who participated in the cantata added fresh laurels to their already well earned reputation as local artists, and so well did each one render his or her part in the performance that it would be difficult to particularize. The following well known and talented singers participated:

Soprano Soloists—Mrs. J. W. Hancock, Miss Mary Elizabeth Williams. Miss Ma.

GREEN BAY, VA., June 4.-One of the most delightful house parties of the season was given Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Violet Wilson fin the village and was greatly enjoyed by the young people of the community. Refreshments were served and music furnished. Among those present were:

Misses Ethel Berry, Lena Rowlett, Mai Shelburne, Lizz'e Davis, Pearl Davis, Madle Borum, Miss Maria Mitchell, Mr. Lew Tucker, Roland Verell, Charman Verell, Arthur Munley, W. A. Munley, Earl Berry, Wayland Berry, Allen Mitchell.

Messrs. Price and Price, who commenced in the poultry business some months ago, are getting their poultry yards in the village stocked with some very fine fowls of the White Leghonrs and Barred Plymouth Rocks. Their yards will contain by the fall months fully 1.000 hens. There are now several poultry farms in and about Green Bay, the majority of them having started windin the last 12 months, and all doing well, and it bids fair to be one of the greatest of industries, as the farmers are beginning to take a greater interest and care for their poultry than they have at any time in the past.
